About our standard components

Our products are related to moulded cold cure foam and include the following types of production:

1. Components
We offer solutions in accordance with our customers' own specifications and provide advice for improvements at the request of the customer.
2. Technical solutions
Our product development division is at all times working with the development of new technical solutions, which we subsequently share with our customers. We are extremely aware of the importance of safeguarding the confidentiality of our customers' specialties and competitive advantages.
We offer our customers our own unique concept solutions or solutions which are otherwise reasonable and competitive in terms of common principles of the industry.
3. Collaboration with complementary suppliers (network)
We collaborate with complementary co-suppliers (wood, steel, hard plastics, etc.) and can offer our customers thoroughly prepared solutions – also based on our customers' own specifications.
4. Construction and Design
Conventional production and production based on 3D technology.

We believe that our working practice, where a high level of integrity is an absolute requirement, makes us a valuable collaborating partner.
